TPAC adds Coffee, Cumberland counties to rural expansion of Disney Musicals in Schools program

TPAC in Schools...15

Michael W. Aldrich TPAC Arts Writer

Four elementary schools in Bedford, Coffee, and Cumberland counties will participate in their first year of Tennessee Performing Arts Center's Disney Musicals in Schools this year, continuing a rural expansion of the program developed by Disney Theatrical Group to create sustainable theatre in under-resourced schools.

Cascade Elementary School and East Side Elementary School in Bedford County, North Coffee Elementary School in Coffee County and Glenn Martin Elementary School in Cumberland County will join Ida B. Wells Elementary School, Paragon Mills Elementary School and Donelson Middle School, of the Metro Nashville Public Schools system, in hosting 17-week residencies culminating in the production of a Disney KIDS or JR. musical.

Last year, more than 1,300 students in 30 under-resourced schools in Davidson and Bedford counties, at no cost to the students or schools, took their favorite Disney stories from the screen to the stage. Another two schools from Bedford county will participate this year.

For this second year of expansion, TPAC awarded a grant to Cumberland County Playhouse in Crossville, which will work locally with the school and select another school to participate in 2020-21.

"I believe the arts can positively affect the entire school culture, especially student motivation, attitudes, and attendance," says Weslie Webster, education director at the Cumberland County Playhouse. "It fosters student expression of feelings and emotions. Expressive kids are happier kids, and happier kids find learning more enjoyable."

First-year schools receive performance rights for the Disney KIDS or Disney JR. musical of their choice, educational support materials, and guidance from TPAC teaching artists.

Disney KIDS musicals are 30-minute performances that have been adapted from classic Disney films such as 101 Dalmatians, Aladdin, The Aristocats, Frozen, The Jungle Book, The Lion King, and Winnie the Pooh.

Through the unique world of musical theatre, Disney Musicals in Schools helps foster positive relationships between students, faculty, staff, parents, and the community.

Over the course of three years, TPAC helps the schools establish theatre programs they can maintain. Meanwhile, teachers learn how to produce, direct, and choreograph theatre, and students develop a variety of skills including critical thinking, problem solving, ensemble building, and interpersonal communication.

As a capstone, students from first-year schools perform one number from their show for fellow students, teachers, family, and more at the Student Share Celebration in TPAC's Jackson Hall.

Disney Musicals in Schools launched in 2010 to help under-resourced public elementary schools not getting equitable access to the arts. After offering the program in New York City schools, Disney Theatrical Group piloted the program in Nashville the following year and has since expanded to other cities.

This is the ninth year of the partnership between Disney Theatrical Group, Metro Schools and TPAC since the program launched here in 2011. The CMA Foundation has provided financial support for the local program since 2013.

Since 2011, 47 schools have participated in TPAC's Disney Musicals in Schools program, involving more than 8,000 students, more than 900 teachers and producing more than 500 performances for schools and communities.

BROADWAY

Just breathe. In February, we won't be the only ones popping our heads out of the ground. We'll satisfy your temptation and invite you to take a gander at a 2020-21 Broadway at TPAC season that is written in the stars.

We know it's a little earlier than usual. It's just one of those things. You might call it a preamble to TPAC roaring into its 40th birthday this year. Put on your pink and cue the pomp and parade. At the end of the day, we're another year older, and we can't wait to start celebrating with you. Not yet. Soon.

Stay tuned to TPAC.org or sign up for our StageLinks email to be the first to know what comes next.

Critically acclaimed production of Lerner & Loewe's My Fair Lady to play TPAC February 4-9

From Lincoln Center Theater that brought you The King & I and South Pacific, comes the critically acclaimed production of Lerner & Loewe's My Fair Lady, playing TPAC's Jackson Hall February 4-9.

Boasting a score with now-classic songs such as “I Could Have Danced All Night,” “Get Me to the Church on Time,” “Wouldn't It Be Lovely,” “On the Street Where You Live,” “The Rain in Spain,” and “I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face,” My Fair Lady tells the story of Eliza Doolittle, a young Cockney flower seller, and Henry Higgins, a linguistics professor determined to transform her into his idea of a “proper lady.”

For director Bartlett Sher, it was important to focus the story more on Eliza than Higgins.

“I tended to think that My Fair Lady had come to be dominated by Higgins, and I felt we had to re-center the piece around the person who, in plot terms, you really follow, which is Eliza,” Sher says. “So, a lot of the work, including the design work, went into repositioning the show behind her. We open on Eliza, we follow her, we go with her to the house.”

Sher’s production is “thrilling, glorious and better than it ever was” (New York Times), and Entertainment Weekly raves it's “A thing of beauty. A masterful piece of entertainment.”

The North American tour stars Shereen Ahmed as Eliza Doolittle and Laird Mackintosh as Henry Higgins. Joining them are Leslie Alexander as Mrs. Higgins, Adam Grupper as Alfred P. Doolittle, Wade McCollum as Professor Zoltan Karpathy, Kevin Pariseau as Colonel Pickering, Gayton Scott as Mrs. Pearce, and Sam Simahk as Freddy Eynsford-Hill.

It features choreography by Christopher Gattelli, sets by Michael Yeargan, costumes by Catherine Zuber, lighting by Donald Holder, and sound by Marc Salzberg.

The Lincoln Center Theater’s production won five Outer Critics Circle Awards, including Best Revival of Musical, and was nominated for 10 Tony Awards, including Best Musical Revival, five Drama Desk Awards, including Best Musical Revival, and three Drama League Awards, including Best Musical Revival.

Adapted from George Bernard Shaw’s play and Gabriel Pascal’s motion picture Pygmalion, My Fair Lady features a book and lyrics by Alan Jay Lerner and music by Frederick Loewe.

The legendary original Broadway production of My Fair Lady premiered in March 1956. It won six Tony Awards, including Best Musical, and ran for 2,717 performances making it, at the time, the longest-running musical in Broadway history.
